A ROUND OF TALK.

If I Were Not a Farmer.

BY WARREN A. TREAD.

If I were not a farmer man, I'd work in the dirt. With pants-legs tucked in boot tops high. And sports a sweat-stained shirt. I think I'd be a railroad king. Or something of that sort. And stand beside the track to hear my locomotives snort. And then this rather bushy beard That ornaments my chin. Would be whacked off; I'd shave my head. And let the sunlight in. I'd don a uniform of blue. A very fancy tie. And wear brass buttons on my coat. To watch my trains roll by. And then, in case I made a trip Out and met an auto man, I'd not be in the mud knee deep As holdin' "Dobs" and "Fan," But seated in a Pullman car With wife and baby by. I'd hunt the thing right smart, you bet. Or know the reason why? But speculating on the thing Might bring me but harm. A Harriam or Gould might trade A railroad for the farm. And make a fortune on these hills While I, despised the road, And long to back with the rills, To bear the same old load.

INDICTMENTS.—The grand jury of the present term of court it seems found more work to do or rather accomplished much more in the way of finding indictments than its predecessors for several terms back. Although the indictments have not yet been made public we understand that there was a batch numbering thirty four turned in. Of that number it is said eleven were against local saloon keepers for selling liquor to minors the remainder being for various offences none of much magnitude. The grand jury evidently was not inclined to be lenient with the saloon men because they are so soon to go out of business but evidently mean to see that they "be good" to the balance of their term. The saloon trade by the way is said to be on a boom in Springfield since the lid was put on in Lebanon and the "boozers" from our neighboring town keep the turnpike warm between the two places. It is estimated that several barrels of liquor are carried over the road every week in bottles and jugs by those Lebanon sports who refuse to remain dry in a dry town.

NEW PEST.—The life of a tobacco grower is not a rosy one. This fact is well established by history. The career of the tobacco man is full of worry and new troubles spring up to confront him with the coming of every season. For the past few seasons he has had an unlimited round fight with the tobacco rust which has been on the verge of knocking him out, but against which the farmer has been holding his own fairly well until what appears to be the closing rounds of the contest he comes up smiling with victory in sight. Another pest is reported to worry the tobacco grower that promises to rival in its destructiveness the familiar tobacco worm or even the rust. Several farmers of the Hillsboro neighborhood in this county are alarmed over the appearance in their tobacco fields of a new kind of destructive bug or worm. It is a new kind of pest and its like never been seen by any of the older inhabitants. The bug or worm is described as a small like creature without its shell, very much resembling a water leech. They have appeared in great numbers in the tobacco fields in the Hillsboro neighborhood and have literally stripped newly set tobacco patches. In some cases they have not left a plant standing in the patch. The creatures, come up out of the ground and do their work quickly and thoroughly and some of the tobacco growers are preparing to replant their fields or seek new grounds wherever possible.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.—The Republicans of Washington county have been called for a mass convention to be held at the courthouse in Springfield on Saturday afternoon June 15th. The object of the convention is to select and instruct delegates to the State Convention which meets in Louisville on Wednesday, June 19th for the purpose of nominating candidates for State offices. The Louisville Herald, which has recently come out strong for A. E. Wilson for governor, has the following to say concerning the situation: "A. E. Wilson's candidacy is growing in strength constantly and it is now believed that a large proportion of the delegates will come to the convention instructed for Mr. Wilson as first choice of their respective districts. Among the newest candidates who seek the nomination for the Governorship is J. H. Hurst, of the Tenth district. Not much is known of Mr. Hurst in Louisville, aside from the fact that he is eighty-two years old and has held a high place in the councils of his party in that neighborhood for years. The remaining candidates, for the gubernatorial nomination, aside from Mr. Wilson, who have already been mentioned are Judge W. H. Holt, of Oldham county, Mr. A. Frank, of Owensboro, and John W. Lewis of Washington. Mr. Lewis has stated that he will not allow his name to go before the convention, but a number of his friends are urging it very strong and there is a possibility that it may be used."

Remarkable Disease

That this is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was born, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased, the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c. and $1 at Haydon & Robertson's drug store. Trial bottle free.

Rats Devour Pigs.

Charles Asbury, of Avon, had four small live pigs in the field with the sow, killed and devoured by rats yesterday, which is the first case of the kind to be reported in this county.

From other parts of the county have come reports that rats have been doing serious damage to corn, wheat and grains while many chickens and fowls have been killed, so that it is not improbable that the farmers of this county will follow the example set by the farmers of Nicholas and Bourbon counties and set apart a day for the general slaughter of rodents.

From every section of Central Kentucky this spring have come reports that the farms have become infested with rats, and stock of all kinds have been attacked and killed. In several of the counties districts have been off and prizes have been offered to those who bring the largest number of rat scalps. Hunters encouraged in this way have slaughtered hundreds of rats, but it appears the war waged on the rodents in the counties where they first became a pest has only caused them to move to Fayette county. — Lexington Herald.

A Thousand Dollars' worth of Good. "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain," says A. D. Sturges, a well known operator of Buffalo, G. "I got no relief from medicine until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick-dick like substance and now I have pain seldom from my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1000 worth of good." Foley's Kidney Cure will cure every form of kidney or bladder disease. Sold at the Red Cross Drug Store.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

The Little Town of Gradyville Almost Wiped Out.

Twenty-eight dead bodies and forty persons injured constitute the list of casualties resulting from storms of tornado severity which swept over Southern Illinois and Indiana and Central Kentucky Friday and Saturday. These fatal visitations came in the shape of cold bursts, high winds and electrical disturbances.

The property damage will reach many thousands of dollars. Houses were swept away, bridges were demolished and thousands of acres of growing crops destroyed.

Gradyville, Ky., was the worst sufferer. A cloudburst deluged that village of 150 persons shortly after midnight, and twenty persons were drowned. At New Minder, Ill., a tornado yesterday morning killed five people and injured half a dozen others. At York, Ill., the Washburn river three persons were killed and thirty injured by a tornado which descended upon the town Friday night. At Quincy, Ill., many houses were blown down around the outskirts of the town and four persons were injured.

A special from Columbia, Ky., says: The most appalling disaster that ever occurred in the history of Adair county, happened about 11 o'clock last night resulting in property loss that cannot be estimated, and the loss of twenty lives. Gradyville, a village eight miles west of Columbia on Big Creek was almost completely swept away by a waterspout, and twenty-one buildings were carried away and a score of deaths followed the frightful catastrophe.

Curad of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles cured me of this dreadful disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dick substance. I believe that I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." For sale by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Republican Convention.

Pursuant to an order of the Republican State Central Committee it is ordered that the Republicans of Washington county meet in mass convention at the Court House in Springfield, Washington County, Ky. on Saturday June 15, 1907 at 1:30 P. M. for the purpose of selecting delegates for the State convention which meets in Louisville, Ky., Wednesday June 19, 1907 for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Attorney General, Auditor, Treasurer, Secretary of State, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, and Clerk of the Court of Appeals to be voted for at the November Election 1907. W. F. Grigsby, Chairman. A. M. Duncan, Secretary.

The Magic No. 3

Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Partridge of Oak Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man to-day. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by Haydon & Robertson druggists 50c.

NOTICE.

OLD CITIZEN DEAD.

Mr. Francis X. Dowling of The County Dies.

Death has again claimed one of Washington county's oldest citizens. Mr. Francis X. Dowling, who had been a lifelong citizen of the county died at his home back of St. Rose on Monday morning of heart trouble. The deceased was born in this county in the year 1827 and had always lived here where he was an industrious and hard working farmer. Mr. Dowling in his prime was known as one of the strongest men ever in the county. Indeed he was a giant in physical strength and never knew a sick day in his life until about five years ago when he became afflicted with heart trouble. He was a man of strict integrity and uprightness of character and enjoyed the respect of everybody. He is survived by two sons and a daughter, his wife having preceded him to the grave several years ago. His two sons are Messrs. Hillary and Willis Dowling of this county and his daughter is Mrs. Lena J. Green of Nelson county.

The funeral took place at St. Rose Tuesday morning. The deceased was a faithful member of the Catholic church.

Bert Barber, of Ellen, W. Va., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills, and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to Dr. Williams' Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A week's treatment will cure. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Murder Chased

Policeman Luther Herron, of Lancaster, was here Wednesday as a witness in a case in Circuit Court, and in conversation with Democrat reporter said that so far the capture of Robert Hocker the negro who murdered D. N. Neal, the Fayette county farmer, several weeks ago, had not been effected. Mr. Herron says that Hocker has been seen several times by reputable citizens in the Dix river cliffs, and he believes that his capture is a matter of a very short time.

Several days ago a posse of Stanford citizens, headed by officer Herron, secured a glimpse of Hocker on the shore of Dix river five miles from Stanford. The men immediately crossed over, but he saw them coming and disappeared in the hills along the river.

Knowing that the negro was in the neighborhood, a systematic search was started among the numerous caves that literally are honeycombed the high banks of the river. Every possible hiding place that could conceal a man was explored, and the posse spent the entire day in this manner. Hocker was seen to enter the cabin of a negro named Ramsey Nelson and the shack was soon surrounded by the posse. Three of them advanced calling upon Hocker to surrender. Not receiving any reply they advanced cautiously, ready to shoot should the negro leave them. They passed at the doorway and peeped in, but it was empty and was deserted. It was then thoroughly searched, but no traces of Hocker were discovered, and it was supposed that he had escaped from the rear of the house.

Hocker is a desperate character and is said to be armed with two pistols and a shot-gun. The reward of $500 for his arrest is stimulating the officers to leave on stone unturned and every effort will be made to catch him. The many friends in this city of Mr. Herron hope that he may capture the negro and get the reward. — Harrodsburg Democrat.

Will Cure Consumption.

A. A. Harvey, Clark, Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for cough, cold and lung trouble. I know it has cured consumption in the lungs. I have never heard of any other cure for Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied, for sale by the Red Cross Drug Store."

There Are Few

people who know how to take care of themselves—the majority do not. The liver is the most important organ in the body. Merber will keep it in condition. W. C. Simpkins, Albia, Texas writes: "I have used Merber for child and fever and find it the best medicine ever used. I would not be without it. It is as good for children as it is for grown people. Ask I recommend it. The fine for LaGrange, sold by the Red Cross Drug Store."

TOPICS.

Mr. G. C. Wharton discovered on yesterday morning that his driving mare which he had quartered in Wharton & Tapp's livery stable, to be very badly injured. The animal had a long deep cut across the fore shoulder.
How the injury was inflicted is a mystery unless it was the result of some one stealing her from the stable at night during which time she received the injury.

Near Sight

There is no doubt of the eye-capable of more harmful results than myopia, or near sight. Other defects will pain, headaches and eyestrain but near sight is a dangerous condition. The "malignant" type is one of the worst evils that can befall the eyes of any person. From constant effort to see as others see, the eye-ball takes on a malignant growth. The eyes gradually become larger in size causing rigidity and hemorrhages finally breaking down their entire structure. Total blindness is the inevitable result.
Glasses used in time will regret it. Nothing in the world will cure it after the growth once begins. If you are near sighted even in a slight degree wear glasses. Get glasses that fit you perfectly and wear them constantly. Not just for reading and sewing, but just for walking, but all the time.
For your own good you cannot afford to be without them a single moment.

AT A RIPE OLD AGE.

Death in Louisville of Mr. E. L. Davison Who Was a Former Citizen of Springfield.

(Communicated)

Mr. Edmund L. Davison, formerly of this place, died at his residence No. 1052 Second Street, Louisville, Ky., on Friday morning last, June the 7th, 1907.

His life was mainly passed at this place and here his active life was spent. His father lived and died here. He was born and reared here June 12th, 1823 was his birthday. So had he lived until the 12th last he would have completed the 84th year of his age.

No death has ever been more generally lamented in Washington county. His life had extended over the average life time allotted to two generations and considering his career, we may ask who has done more of good than he? Who has been kinder and better to his neighbors and fellow men? Knowing him intimately in his home and abroad.

Lanower, no one. He was a man of fine natural talent. Full of energy. By his own efforts, business tact and acumen, he rose from small beginnings to great, success, and splendid achievements in the business life.

He was a christian. Above the grave in the magnificent and beautiful city of the dead, Cave Hill, where he lies to-day believe his true and noble wife, his true and noble wife, between whom and himself there always existed worthy perfect trust, devotion and affection, the star of hope will ever shine. Heart to heart and soul to soul. In the joy of success and the stress and trial of adversity I have known him. He has triumphed over all, and gone to his reward. In life he was unsullied. In death he is without reproach.

Dear Mr. Davison, may the roses bloom perennially upon thy grave, pure, fragrant and sweet, as thy blessed memory.

Silvering Mirrors.
Mirrors are usually silvered by coating the glass with amalgam. For this purpose a large, perfectly flat stone is provided, and upon it is spread a sheet of tin foil without crack or flaw. This is covered to the depth of one-eighth of an inch with clean mercury. The plate of glass, perfectly cleaned from grease and impurities is floated on to the mercury by sliding. As to be made into air bubbles. It is then pressed down by holding it with weights in order to press out all the mercury which remains fluid. This is travels in a gutter around the stone.
After about twenty-four hours it is gently raised upon its edge, and in a few weeks it is ready to frame.

His Perseverance.
Henry Arthur Jones, the noted English play writer, was visiting the students of Yale an address on the drama.
"Your American vernacular is picturesque," he said, "and it should help your playwrights to build strong, real plays. But neither vernacular nor any thing else is of moment if perseverance is lacking. No playwright can succeed who is like a man I know. I said to this man one New Year's day, Do you keep a diary, Philip? Yes," he answered. "I've kept one for the last two weeks in January for the last seven years."
